MONDAY AT THE AUDITORIUM.

A strong feature act will head the A strong feature act will head the bill at this theater during the first three days of next week when J. Brandon Waish, the well known sketch writer, presents Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Thomas, in The Dog Thief, a different comedy sketch. The scene of this little playlet is laid in the parlor of the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria, in New York city, and there are three characters in the cast—Trixie Farnsworth, a wise church, Sunday morning, the pastor city, and there are three characters in the cast—Trixie Farnsworth, a wise Mise; Rube Siocum, a wise rube; and Snowball, a dog. This act schould be a good drawing attraction and will no doubt hit a high mark of popular favor. A neat appearing singing comedienns is Gertrude Davenport, who will introduce several new and catchy songs in her own original manner.

The Three Sylvesters are also on the bill for the first three of next week and they will no doubt make the same hit flig year as they did when they played here three years ago. Mr. Sylvester does a comedy Irish character, which he is well fitted to portray, and his witty remarks keep the audience in the afternoon.

At Prestor City Congregational church, Children's day services will be beld in the morning, with special address by the pastor, Rev. Luther M. Keneston. Evening topic, Happy Memory.

At Trinity Episcopal church there will be Holy Communion at 9.20 a. m., merning prayer and sermon at 10.30 a. m. and evening prayer at 7.30 p. m., and evening praye which he is well intend to partial, and his witty remarks keep the andience in good humor from start to finish. In the pictures for Monday, Lost lears, a Rex, will be the feature, and is noted for its wonderful water scenic

BREED THEATER.

One of the most thrilling pictures offered at the Breed in some time is the one for today, entitled The Mexican Revolutionist, and produced by the peerless Kalem cast. This picture abounde in sensational events, and is rich in Mexican scenery, while the inimitable oast is individually seen at its best. A distinct film novelty is the Edison feature entitled An Unusual Sacrifice. This is a dramatic story of telepathy, by Ashley Miller, and holds the audiences in suspense during its many absorbing moments. It tells of two young composers who are strong friends and one of them ing its many absorbing moments. It tells of two young composers who are strong friends and one of them gets into financial straits after his marriage to the girl who was friendly to both. In the moments of separation one of them telepathically feels the trouble the other is in, and he projects the melody of his greatest inspiration to the fellow many miles away, which is received by him and written, and made the vehicle to bring riches to them again, after it is sold to the eager publishers. to the eager publishers.

I holiered for a miracla I argued lend an' long;
I put th' case before 'em in some statements mighty strong;
said 'twas no use talkin' if miracles
was done
In other days, 'twas easy to show me
only one!
I walked off mighty proudlike—an'
smiled at th perfume
That sort o' whispered to me from the iliac bush in bloom.

FOETRY

THE LITTLE MIRACLES.

I set an' made 'em listen, when I'd bet
'em have their say;
I showed 'em by cold logick we are
livin' in today.
We went clear back to Jonah, an'
Moses an' th' rock—
There was no claim that they made I couldn't set an' mock.
Then when a johnny jump-up haughed
at me from th grass
I saw my twisted sperrit like in a lookin' glase.

I hollered for a miracle, I dared 'em just to show
One marvel like they talked about of long an long ago.
An' then I saw th' orchard—last mosth all dead an' bare.
An' now a sea o' bloseoms that sanctify th' air!
Out yonder in th' medder lot th' dandy.
Hons blaze;
Th' tendrils o' the grapevene teaches out a dozen ways.

One said of old, "Consider ye the illies."
